

FRAGILE FAMILIES RESEARCH TOPIC ABSTRACT

Authors: Kristen Harknett, Arielle Kuperberg

Research Assistants: Arielle Kuperberg
(who will need access to the restricted data)

Title: What's Important for a Successful Marriage? Racial and Gender Differences

Topic: We are planning to analyze attitudes about what is important for a successful marriage by race and for mothers and fathers. We'd like to use the contextual data on the racial composition and other characteristics of neighborhoods as predictors.

Sample Used: Select all that apply:

- five year core
- five year in-home
- three year child care
- contextual data
- medical records data

Key dependent variables: Attitudes about what's important for a successful marriage

Key independent variables: Race, gender, religion, characteristics of neighborhoods

Posting Date: August 16, 2006